On your picturesque 4-hour drive from Vancouver, marvel at the landscape of sun-drenched mountains to sun-drenched desert before reaching your lakeside destination: Penticton. Soak in the sun while you pick your way down the Okanagan River by rocky mountain landscape, the North and South Thompson Kenna Cartwright Park to explore the unique terrain that has piqued the interest of BC's most avid mountain bikers. To cool off, make a stop at Dewdrop Trail or rolling fields of Vancouv.

On your scenic 2-hour drive south from Penticton, the Okanagan Valley unfolds, with opportunities to taste your way through the region's finest wineries, or take a swim in Okanagan Lake's sparkling water. Then head south for a 2-hour drive until you reach the desert town of Osoyoos. Spend your time exploring the local fruit orchards, or bike along the Kettle Valley Railway Trail and revel in the sweeping views of Okanagan Lake before returning to the bright lights of Vancouver.
